“Dr. Mark” is an author, international speaker and child custody expert with specialization in high conflict personality and parental alienation. Dr. Mark is CEO and Founder of The Toby Center for Family Transitions, a leading child visitation and child reunification agency based in Florida which he founded in 2008. (www.thetobycenter.org).

Dr. Roseman is Publisher of Contemporary Family Magazine, flagship of Preserving Family Ties Media, LLC, an educational consultant and publisher on family and social issues which he founded in 2020. He serves on the Editorial Board of the American Journal of Family Therapy.

'Ask Dr. Mark' is his Q&A for targeted parents and alienated children found in Contemporary Family Magazine and on its website, www.contemporaryfamilymagazine.com. His recent book, Preserving Family Ties (WestBow Press) provides the fundamental research on child outcomes when parents separate which he has researched since 1998. (www.preservingfamilyties.com).

Dr. Mark began his field work as Assistant Director for Child Access in Washington, DC with the Children's Rights Council serving with its founder, David L. Levy, Esq. who has been termed “King of Joint Custody” as his testimony nationally brought about shared parenting in more than 30 states.

With his mediation background and frequent humorous approach, Dr. Roseman has succeeded in mitigating many of the more contentious arguments characterizing a fearful parent seeking to block the other from more time sharing or access of any kind.

His national coaching and consulting company, Mark David Roseman & Associates brings virtual support groups for targeted parents and family practitioners. His more than twenty years in the field and his expertise in these complicated subjects will bring you clarity and understanding, and give you the options you can best consider for improving child outcomes when parents separate.
